Ancient woodland is irreplaceable there has to be an overwhelming public interest to destroy it. This scheme does not have an overwhelming public interest, in fact it has very little public support. What more can I say.

I try to do a variety of things, but I usually manage to read emails every week, so don't expect replies within hours.

Dear Sirs,

Yes I am interested and affected. Although the Ancient Woodland that is at risk is in Kent that is because most of Essex lost its Ancient Woodland long ago, so much the more reason for protecting that which is left. As a resident of Essex I will be seriously affected by this development, as yet I am still waiting for a unique reference.
