Hi

Just a short letter about the A57 link road.

In my view as a taxi driver I think it's a complete waste of time. I use the M67/A57 on a daily bases and I know it's a problem with the traffic but most of it is the HGV's. I can't see what difference a mile long bypass is going to do with the traffic congestion, it's still going to build up again when it get's to Tintwistle/Glossop. It's not just mottram/tintwistle and glossop it's everywhere there's just to many vehicle's.
