Subject: M2E Compensation Agreements

As discussed, the position is that the EA agreement has been signed. The NCC agreement has not yet been signed. Their signing procedures require the fixing of a seal and physical signature and so this is a little more complicated to organise when staff are working from home. There was no officer physically available to seal and sign the agreement ahead of the close of the examination. However, execution will be taking place during the course of this week and we can let PINS know when this is done.
