Dog owners going walkies for great greyhound national event

DOG lovers will be feeling anything but blue this weekend when they head out on a special walk.

After two years, the Great Global Greyhound Walk (GGGW) returns on Sunday, September 19, with a walk organised from Hutton Magna Village Hall as part of the international event.

In addition to the hour-long walk, which starts at 10.30am, and follows the footpaths behind Hutton Hall farm, there will be a tombola and cake stall back at the village hall.

It will be the sixth GGGW walk from Hutton Magna and leading the parade of greys and other sight hounds will be organiser Carroll Trevor and her faithful lurcher Amber.

The theme of this year's walk is the colour blue and those taking part are invited to dress up or sport something appropriate.

As well as raising awareness of how greys and sight hounds make good pets, the GGGW raises money for greyhound welfare charities. In previous years, cash raised by the Hutton Magna walks has supported organisations such as the Greyhound Trust, at Merby, near Darlington, and Stray Aid. Last year's event was cancelled due to Covid and this year's GGGW day put back from its usual June date to allow for the relaxation of restrictions.

A GGGW spokesperson said it was hoped record numbers of people and their pets would take part this year.

"There has been an amazing response to the 2021 running. Within 48 hours of opening the website for registrations, there were over 50 walk listings submitted."

Originally named the Great British Greyhound Walk the event was begun by the charity Greyhound Walks, founded by one dog lover, Janet Peacock, who wanted some company to walk with her greyhound.

"The ultimate goal is for the general public to see the hounds out on their walk, meet them and learn about their lovely characteristics.

"In the past, the GGGW has been proven to find forever homes for hounds that needed them – it is the hope that this side of the event will also increase."

Anyone interested in joining Mrs Trevor and Amber on Sunday can call her 01833 627489 or email carroll.trevor@hotmail.com.

Just one pupil on roll at dale school

BACK FROM BRINK: Forest of Teesdale School was saved from closure five years ago after a community campaign

BY STUART LAUNDRY
Senior Reporter

THE future of Teesdale's most remote school has come under the spotlight – five years after it was first earmarked for closure.

There is currently just one pupil on the roll at Forest of Teesdale Primary, one of four small schools which form the Upper Durham Dales Federation.

With Forest's sole youngster being taught alongside children at one of the other schools in the federation – St John's Chapel, Rookhope and Wearhead, all in Weardale – residents in the upper dale contacted the Mercury fearing Forest had, in fact, been closed.

Durham County Council officials say they are monitoring the situation.

Jim Murray, Durham County Council's head of education and skills, said: "The school had one pupil on its roll at the start of this academic year and we continue to work with the governing body around the best ways of sustaining education provision across its communities."

"This will be looked at in the autumn term as part of the regular reviews of education provision and financial monitoring that we do for all maintained schools alongside their governing bodies."

He added: "Forest of Teesdale Primary School is part of a federation of four small rural primary schools, brought together to enhance the curriculum and education provision for all pupils enrolled across these schools.

"Children are routinely taught with others in the federation, using one or more school building for this purpose, according to age group or subject."

Barnard Castle West county councillor Ted Henderson is the cabinet member for children and young people's services at Durham County Council, as well as a member of the governors at Forest of Teesdale School.

He said: "No decision has been made with regards to the school itself but the highest regard has been put on the children's health, wellbeing and social care, as well as their educational needs.

"As the portfolio holder for children and young people for Durham County Council, I am discussing the best options for all the children."

In 2016, plans by Durham County Council to close Forest of Teesdale school were met with a furious backlash from residents in the upper dale. They said closing the school would make the upper dale a less viable place to live and work and less likely to attract new families.

At the time, the school had 14 pupils who joined in the campaign to save their school.

More than 2,000 people signed a petition calling for the county council to rethink its proposals.

After a two-month campaign, council leaders decided to keep Forest of Teesdale open, sharing a head teacher with Rookhope and St John's Chapel Schools.

In January this year, the Upper Durham Dales Federation was formed, which also included Wearhead, under the leadership of executive head teacher Sarah Hodgkinson.

Bakery business rises again after Covid

BY NICKY CARTER
Senior Reporter

ARTISAN bakers who opened a shop in Barnard Castle four weeks ago say they have been overwhelmed by the response.

Alex Lister and partner Catherine Brown, from Hamsterley, moved the Rise Artisan Bakery to the former Edinburgh Woollen Mill premises in Horsemarket after having to mothball their business for 13 months due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

When the lockdown kicked in last year, walk-in trade to their Newcastle outlet in Grainger Market disappeared overnight when workers were told to stay at home. Wholesale trade also dried up with hospitality venues closed.

After securing new premises the couple have worked hard to transform the two-storey former clothes shop into a bakery.

Since opening, the couple, who initially set up the business in Crook six years ago, have regularly seen queues out of the door for their artisan bread, baguettes, sourdoughs, mousse cakes and deli sandwiches.

"I never expected to be this busy," said Mr Lister. "And this is just the beginning. Once we get the power going it will be the crown jewel of Barney."

Three-phase electricity still has to be connected to the premises which will allow the couple to expand their range of bread, patisseries and pies. Opening is limited to four days a week from Wednesday to Saturday though this will be expanded in time. He added: "We won't be doing wholesale. It would mean we would have to start at six in the evening and work through until 6am and I'm not doing that. But we have got so much more that we can so - pies, croissants, pain au chocolate. We will probably keep it simple, but we haven't really started yet and the scope is huge."

They plan to get the cafe, which will be on the first floor, up and running by the beginning of November with a "simple but tasty" menu.

Bid to replace phone kiosk with red box

A parish survey has showed most Whorlton residents are in favour with some residents pledging cash. Whorlton Parish Council has already received an offer of £1,000 from Whorlton Village Community Association and the area's two county councillors say they will contribute via their neighbourhood budgets.

Parish chairman Cllr George Stastny said: "We propose to replace the existing modern, unsightly telephone box with a traditional red telephone box, K6 style, which would be much more appropriate and visually pleasing for the Whorlton conservation area." Cllr Stastny said the total cost would be £4,200 and more money needs to be raised. Anyone who can help can contact the parish council by calling 01388 609045 or emailing whorltonandwestwickpc@gmail.com
