Dear team,

Thank you for your letter and I understand the decision is now made about moving forward with the large infrastructure projects.

My main concern is around these two issues:

- Control of time for late night aircraft arrivals - I am often disturbed from sleep by late night aircraft flying in. Will there be strict controls on flight times at unsocial hours?
- Compensation for changes to air quality and noise increases - should we expect any form of financial compensation in the future?

Kind regards

Ben Rudd
