Subject: Kind attention of the Planning Inspectorate

Dear sirs/madams,

Thanet in Kent is giving birth to a new venue.

There is a plan in place to re name Thanet "Film Island".

Ramsgate will be hosting it's 3rd year of Ramsgate Film and TV Festival in June 2019, welcoming again, famous celebrities, film and TV producers, writers and actors from all over the world.

The 1st year - 2017
The 2nd year - 2018
The 3rd year - 2019

We look at new would be film directors and their films, writers and actors as well as already successful directors etc who are looking, as always, to expand their viewings to reach a worldwide audience.

The selection panel assesses which films to put forward for the next venue covering comedy, drama and documentary, for the big screen as well as TV.

Ramsgate, in Thanet, is a beautiful location for this, with its magnificent sea views, historical characters such as Wilkie Collins, famous writer for the Victoria novels "The Moonstone", "The Woman in White" and Charles Dickens, his friend, famous for "Bleak House" to name but a few, have all been, not only filmed on the big screen but also serialised for TV.

Manston Airport, if kept alive, will help promote this Film Festival by bringing film buffs and those associated peoples to the Island, which we believe will grow to phenomenal heights.

It has already been predicted to be the largest film venue outside of London and colossal support and financial help has already been given from those knowledgeable people behind the scenes, as we've sought their advice and help in how to make this new venue grow and succeed.

As you'll already be aware of Manston Airports passionate supporters for many different reasons and those in opposition to the continuation of Manston Airport, I truly believe as someone who lives directly under the flight path, that the opposition to Manston Airport is short a sighted and slightly selfish.

Manston Airport can promote not only jobs but a whole new world to Thanet. Manston Airport can bring in money if managed properly and be used especially well with internal flights taking the strain off the main London airports, already congested.

My submission is late as I've just flown in from Sri Lanka.

The Airport in Sri Lanka is as tiny as Manston Airport and totally uncomplicated with only one Terminal and maximum security controls all run with quite a high personal pride and passion which brings with it a warm and friendly manner.

I flew from Manston to Faro and Edinburgh when it was operating and in all fairness, wasn't really given a fair shot at progressing to its full potential.

The Cargo flights to disaster areas around the world was a quiet pride everyone felt and schools sending parcels at Christmas in decorated shoe boxes, to our armed forces abroad.

Please reconsider the future potential of a successful Manston Airport especially when the Ferries restart in our harbours like the cargo ships bringing in cars has done, boosting morale and excitement and hope.

The roads, signposts and infrastructure is already in place. Let this plan really take off and fly.

The skies the limit here. It truly is

Thank you for considering my point of view.

Thank you for reading my email.

Sincerely Jane Rose
