Is it not about time there was a bit of real thinking going in to this silly idea of another VERY large “ town “ in an already crowded area.

To just build a lot of houses which will turn out to be a dormitory as there is NO work in or around when an Airport will bring in work and provide employment for people.

Another plus to an Airport is that it will encourage travelers to visit the area.

With an Airport there will be so many opportunities for employment and also training for various skills.

It may have escaped the planners notice but this has one of the longest runways in the country and has been used as an emergency landing over the past years so instead of disrupting places like Gatwick or London by evicting whole villages to expand on these places why not use an existing facility which admittedly will need work but will be more economical in the long run.

As for the detractors, have they forgotten the War, this was one of the king pin’s for the Air Force to defend this country and has been there for now over a Hundred years.

I can only hope that there will be some common sense put into this rather wooly thinking on the part of the local Councils.

Yours sincerely,

E. Goldring.
