Dear sir/ madam,

I understand that there is now a possibility of night flights being routine if an airport is reestablished at Manston. As a local resident I wish to object in the strongest possible terms.

Ramsgate is a beautiful, peaceful seaside town that is now finding itself after a long period of public neglect. The tourist industry is alive again, bringing visitors and all of their benefits to our local economy. (This has been recently recognised in government money being awarded to the rejuvenated harbour area.) It can only be detrimental to this positive growth that we will have low flying aircraft over the town centre again, and particularly appalling that night flights are a possibility.

I do request that you consider those objecting to this negative development, and reject any proposals relating to the reestablishment of an airport at Manston.

Kind regards,

Elizabeth Seward
