Good afternoon

Its not about the history of the airport that will always be there, Its all about the future growth of the Isle Of Thanet and just as importantly The UK keeping up with Europe in terms of having designated cargo hubs and being able to transport goods without having to cross back across the English channel.

Thanet has a very high unemployment rate and with the plans that RSP submitted would have an unbelievable positive impact on bringing part, seasonal and full time jobs not just to Manston but locally and further afield. Also the opportunity for the younger generation to study and bring much needed skills to the area.

You couldn't ask for more from RSP with their proposals The airport will meet the governments eco policy which would be the first in the country.
This is a privately funded venture which won't come out of the tax payers pocket.

The Government are quite happy to pay out millions of pounds on a new runway at LHR firstly because its the capitals main airport but not give the go ahead for a project that will have minimal eco impact on the area like the needless destruction of homes nearer LHR.

This project must be given the go ahead.
