Regarding the reopening of manston airport as a freight hub .

I feel we should look at the positives and negatives. As I see it the positives are increased employment in a deprived area .

To this I would say the amount of employment has been grossly over estimated . The reason being . The new airport would be state of the art with all modern technology. This reduces the need for labour .

On the negative side . It would undoubtedly bring first and foremost pollution air and noise .

All local schools in Ramsgate would be very badly affected .

Where I live the planes would be approximately 150 feet above the ground . Life would be hell on earth . There is no infrastructure for the onward movement of freight . The airport has never and will never make money .

The local nature reserve at pegwell bay would be badly affected according to experts. There are many more reasons why this should not go ahead . I'm sure you have heard most of them . Finally when a panel of experts in the field , say it shouldn't happen . These experts being employed by you . Surely common sense has to prevail . You ask , has anything changed since decisions were made . Aviation has fallen off a cliff . Is that reason enough . Many thanks for your time . Allan Tudor . Concerned resident .
