It would be travesty of justice if the whim of the few who mostly don't live in the area stop this much needed opportunity to regenerate Thanet /East Kent with the large job opportunities also the so called experts report based on outdated information from previous reports / assumptions as the air craft industry is developing newer quieter engines and fuel systems to keep in line with climate change not to mention the latest air cargo reports of shortage of dedicated cargo slots due to passenger flights on the increase with the removal of more travel restrictions. I believe this report was not researched but just f with bits taken from hear and there or from thin air? Thanet/East Kent need this air port up and running hopefully sooner rather than later
