Dear sir/madam

We currently live under the flight path, nearly one of the last few houses before the planes land, we live at [REDACTED]

In the warm weather, we have the windows open and when watching TV, we normally have to pause the TV every time a plane goes over and when in the garden, when having friends or family around we have to pause our conversation when a plane goes over, now I'm not complaining as we love watching the planes and the airport was there before we lived here, we've been here for 10 years now, but with a second runway how much more noise are we going to get? We also know there will be more traffic and we are sandwiched between the airport and m23.

So I was wondering is there anything you can do for us, any perks we can get for having to experience what we already do and will surely get worse?

Please can this be passed to the highest person

Many thanks
