Dear Sir / Madam,

I have read your latest e-mail and the links with interest. I remain totally opposed to the Northern Runway project, further expansion at Gatwick is both unjustified and unneeded. I use Gatwick once or twice a year and it is clear that the current facilities are being neglected; everywhere you look there is a lack of investment in the current passenger experience, combined with very poor management.

Additional runway space is not required, instead Gatwick should look to make significant improvements to their current facilities, which would ensure the most effective and efficient use of their plentiful (current) resources.

Yours faithfully
