

Submission ID: 30007

I strongly agree with the use of Gatwick's 2nd runway, this country has a crippling backlog and shortage of slots near to London, and with the Heathrow expansion not looking likely, something needs to be done to improve this before London loses its edge as the air hub of Europe