As an interested party who lives beneath the flight path I beg you to not allow expansion of Gatwick, for my families mental health (it's already unbearable sometimes ), for the sake of the planet and the current climate and ecological crisis and for the more than human species who also say please no more as well as the future generations.

Please don't just consider a few people who can afford to fly when the majority of humans will never be able to.

Please consider fairness and justice to all. Put yourself 100 years into the future and ask if it was still the best thing to do.

I hope common sense prevails

All the best
