Dear Sirs

I am afraid that I do not have the specific knowledge to make a technical argument against the proposed fourth runway at Gatwick. However, as someone who lives under the flight path to Gatwick I have experienced serious disturbance and impact on my quality of life as a result of air traffic being funnelled over my house. I can only speculate that a fourth runway at Gatwick will increase the volume of air traffic even more, and that causes me stress and concern. As I write this at 23.30 there has been constant air traffic overhead, even to the extent of causing vibrations inside. I therefore strongly object to any further development at Gatwick which would add to the current state of affairs.

Yours sincerely
Katya Hall
