

Mr Bowden,

Thank you for your correspondence received on 04 April 2016.

The Bere Alston to Tavistock Railway Reinstatement scheme is currently at its 'Pre-Application' stage. The Planning Inspectorate is aware that the developer is unlikely to be conducting any form of statutory consultation within the next 12 months. All of the latest information we receive can be found on our website via the following link:

<http://infrastructure.planninginspectorate.gov.uk/projects/south-west/bere-alston-to-tavistock-railway-reinstatement-and-associated-trails/>

If you would like information regarding the Planning Act 2008 process, further information can be found on the following link:

<http://infrastructure.planninginspectorate.gov.uk/application-process/the-process/>

I would suggest contacting the developer directly to obtain further information.

Kind regards,

Callan Burchell

Subject: Bree Alston to Tavistock Reinstatement

Hi

I wonder if you could give me any news on how the project this is progressing ,it is on a personal basis only and not for Network Rail who I work for.I have followed with interest this scheme to reinstate the line but news is very scarce even the developers website DCC has withdrawn all information when I emailed them.

Kind Regards

Graham Bowden
