

We write in response to Written Question 1.9.19.

The number of jobs that our clients hope to create in connection with the proposed employment development is approximately 1,611.

This is calculated by applying the ratio of 1 job per 1000 square feet of employment development. The rationale and evidence behind that ratio is set out in the attached research document by ProLogis.